In a few years, when the iDevices have been forgotten and wearable technology reigns, how does technology play into the end of time as we know it? Denver Smith and a select team at Yodel (the premier internet and technology company) have an inside track on the technology; but if they knew the truth, they would know that what they are developing in technology actually fulfills prophecy and come with the signs of the end. What will happen? Will the world be too impressed with the technology to see the signs? With the rapid advances of wearable technology and smart devices how much further can they go? This short-fiction Christian series follows the lives of several key figures as it takes a look through time and technology and truth!
